

HEIDOLPH HEI-VAP INTELLIGENT EVAPORATION

Ref. Code:
HEID-VAP

3 YEAR WARRANTY- DON'T COMPROMISE

Whether you wish to distil small samples for analysis, prepare large batches, or continuous evaporation – the Hei-VAP range has the right solution for every task. For maximum efficiency and precision, we recommend using our complete solutions, including peripheral devices, which are configurable to your application.

Leading Safety Standards – All models come with a safety heating bath with handles, pour spout, and cable coupling with protection class IP 67 to prevent short-circuiting and corrosion. The residual heat indicator also alerts you to a temperature above 50°C when in stand-by mode. In the event of continued temperatures exceeding by >5°C, the heating is turned off to prevent running dry.

Superior Ease of Use – Simplify your day-to-day work with smart details such as a detachable panel, control knobs for direct control, the Easy-Clip for removing flasks, and the patented vapour tube. All glass accessories such as distillation spiders, evaporating cylinders, or evaporating flasks up to 5L can be used with the universal 5L heating bath without retrofitting.

Reduced Cost of Ownership – All components complement each other and are made for years of continuous operation: PTFE vacuum seals, UV resistant tubes with best chemical stability, condensate-repellent varnish, sealed housing, maintenance-free and sparkless motors. FDA compliant materials increase the range of applications without additional accessories.

Made in Germany – All Heidolph products are developed and manufactured at the Heidolph Schwabach headquarters in Nuremberg, where they undergo multi-stage quality checks in development and production. Even in continuous operation, the powerful, no-maintenance motors ensure consistent results and prevent downtimes and expensive repairs.
